

Withdrawing your consent or Stating your lack of consent

HFEA
WC form

About this form

Who should fill in this form?

Fill in this form if you wish to withdraw your consent to:

- the use or storage of your eggs, sperm or embryos (created outside the body, in vitro, with your eggs or sperm); or
- being the legal parent of any child born as a result of your partner's treatment – you can only do this if donor sperm or embryos (created in vitro with donor sperm) are being used in her treatment. or
- your partner being the legal parent of any child born as a result of your treatment – you can only do this if you are not married to or in a civil partnership with your partner, and donor sperm or embryos (created in vitro with donor sperm) are being used in your treatment.

Also fill in this form if you wish to state your lack of consent to your wife or civil partner's treatment with donor sperm or embryos (created in vitro with donor sperm) and do not want to be the legal parent of any child born from her treatment.

Why should I fill in this form?

If you wish to withdraw your consent to anything you previously consented to on HFEA consent forms, or if you want to state your lack of consent to your wife or civil partner's treatment, then you will need to fill in the relevant sections of this form so your clinic has a written record of this. If your consent relates to use of sperm, eggs or embryos for treatment or donation then it can be varied or withdrawn at any time until the point of transfer.

Consent to parenthood can also be varied and withdrawn up to the point of sperm, egg or embryo transfer. Consent to the use of sperm, eggs and embryos for research and training can be varied and withdrawn until they have been used for these purposes.

Before filling in this form

Before you fill in this form, your clinic should make sure that you receive all the relevant information you need about withdrawing your consent or stating your lack of consent.

Why is there a declaration on every page of this form?

There is a declaration on every page where you sign to confirm that you have completed the section or page and fully agree with the consent and information given.

After filling in this form

After you have filled in this form, make sure that you have a photocopy of it.
